from AlaskansForWildlife: “ FYI, after many of us pressed the Governor and ADFG for an Emergency Order closing wolf hunting/trapping along the NE boundary of Denali over the past week, they finally issued the order today, closing west of Savage River Monday, April 2. The Governor made the decision himself.

This is a real victory, and if any wish to thank the Governor in letters to the editor, etc., that would be great. Most importantly, we need now to get them to make this temporary closure, permanent, as we have been proposing for the past several years. The Governor's office wants to re-engage on that issue soon. We will be working with the Governor in April toward this goal....”

film ‘Making a Killing: Guns, Greed, and the NRA. Americans’ lives are threatened by gun violence everywhere – in schools, houses of worship, theaters, offices, homes, and public spaces. That’s why we’re committed to telling the stories of how guns — and the billions made off of them by the NRA and gun companies — affect the safety of everyday Americans and what can be done to put an end to this profit-driven crisis.

Through films and campaigns, we ... educate and mobilize parents, students, teachers, doctors, activists, and organizations across the country to take action and fight back against this senseless and preventable epidemic tearing our country apart.

Fairbanks Housing & Homeless Coalition Updates:

-- Rapid Re-Housing (RRH): The Fairbanks Symposium on Homelessness was designed to be an action mtg and the most important accomplishment: the community is now well into the planning process for a Rapid Re-Housing (RRH) program... open to any individual or family in need. Now we have 11 agencies actively supporting the idea... the Fairbanks Rescue Mission [will] be the host agency...

-- Fairbanks Symposium on Homelessness II: The symposium was a bigger success than we realized at the time - “enormous turnout” - and we should seriously consider doing another one.

-- Tea Outreach: ... On April 11th Eloy is teaming up with Fairbanks Native Association Community Services to pass out tea downtown.

-- Reentry Coalition Coordinator: Chris McLain...has been instrumental in the Reentry Coalition's amazing successes, but Chris is preparing to step away from the position to dedicate more time to his rural community justice initiatives. Chris has prepared continuity books and even offered to volunteer his time to help get the next coordinator on the right track... email Interior Alaska Center for Non-Violent Living: IAC@iacnvl.org

-- Fairbanks Regional Public Health Center / Fairbanks Rescue Mission: public health nurses...routinely provide services at the Fairbanks Rescue Mission and at various encampments around town. During this mtg Leslie announced that a local nurse practitioner would now be offering services at the Mission once a month. This will be a tremendous benefit to the community.

-- Northern Hope Center a mental health drop-in center for adults 18 & older, with serious mental illness, who have a genuine need of relief from isolation & an opportunity to socialize with their peers. [A] tremendous resource for the community if you haven't been there (Suite 103, 909 Cushman) you should visit sometime to learn more. See the flyer.

-- Community Wall: The Noel Wien Library is really a hub in the community. The amount of people who use the facility is impressive and Ashton Varner is looking to make the library even more of a local communication hub by developing a Community Center Wall. Fairbanks Youth Advocates and other local agencies have had real success at outreach in the library and Ashton will help other organizations do the same. For more information please contact Ashton by phone at 907-459-1151 or by email at avarner@fnsblibrary.us

-- ThrivAlaska Pre-K Recruitment: Families who are in the spectrum of homelessness are a top priority.
