Ongoing Campaigns, Recent Past Events, and/or Issues not specific to Alaska

Peace

from winwithoutwar.org: "Rep. Young and Sens. Murkowski and Sullivan need to speak up on this. In less than 24 hours, nearly 25,000 Win Without War activists have raised your voices to demand Congress stop Trump's dangerous tank parade. [But] Congress is not doing nearly enough to stop it. I don't just mean voting the right way when legislation to stop this parade finally hits the floor. I mean everything from blocking funding to making speeches to demanding accountability and oversight.

Justice

"Doctrine of Discovery" Some are repudiating it. Can more be done?
mg paraphrases: "The Doctrine of Discovery began with three papal bulls (decrees) in the 15th century. It effectively said that Catholics /Christians could claim as their own any lands held by non-Christians; and any inhabitants, if they could not be converted to Christianity, could be killed or enslaved.
"When European Christian explorers came to the Americas in the 15th century and onward, they were acting under the authority of

Sustainability

"Monsanto by any other name" As a result of the Bayer-Monsanto mega-merger, the name "Monsanto" will be no more, and the combined corporation will just be known as "Bayer."
This is clearly an attempt to hide Monsanto's disastrous reputation. In fact, the president of Bayer's Crop Science Division said, "The decision to drop Monsanto's name is part of a wider campaign to win back consumer trust."<sup>1</sup>
What name would you give Monsanto to reflect who they really are?

Add your name now: Demand Congress stop Trump's military parade.

from VFP: "Veterans For Peace Keeps Eye on Military Psychologists and American Psychological Association.

The APA's enmeshment with the national security apparatus of the United States became public knowledge when the world learned that psychologists were contributing to torture. In addition, an independent review, commissioned by the APA Board of Directors, revealed direct coordination between APA staff and Department of Defense personnel in interpreting the APA's Ethics Code to allow members to continue to participate in interrogations of detainees captured in the "war on terror."

"Not only is torture morally wrong, it is illegal under treaties that the United States has signed, ratified, and then reinterpreted in domestic law to allow the implementation of the torture program. These include the Geneva Conventions (which prescribe how people affected by war, whether as soldiers or civilians, may be treated) and the United Nations Convention against Torture...

"We call on military psychologists to disobey unlawful orders at all times and to focus their efforts on healing the wounds of war rather than causing them. They cannot do this if they are working for the U.S. military or intelligence services in settings such as the base occupying Guantánamo Bay, or other extra-territorial sites that are illegal under international law.

"We join with others who call on the APA's Council of Representatives to maintain the courageous stance it took in 2015 and reject resolutions 35B and 13D."

"This Doctrine made its way into U.S. and Indian Property law in the 1823 U.S. Supreme Court decision Johnson v. M'Intosh, and its legacy has continued to be felt today. As recently as 2005, Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg cited the landmark 1823 decision in City of Sherrill vs. Oneida Indian Nation of New York."

Monsanto will continue to represent how corporations put families in jeopardy. Its name has become synonymous with the power that corporations wield over the food we eat. Here's why:

- They push widespread adoption of GMO seeds and the chemicals, like Roundup, used to grow them
- They manipulated science to make Roundup (a weed killer made with a probable human carcinogen) appear safe<sup>2</sup>
- They were a major supplier of Agent Orange, a highly toxic defoliant sprayed during the Vietnam War<sup>3</sup>
- Farmers and farmworkers are suing Monsanto, claiming their cancers are linked to Roundup exposure.<sup>4</sup>
- At least five of their facilities are so contaminated that they are listed as Superfund sites, a program that targets the most hazardous sites for cleanup
- Their domination affects the U.S. agricultural industry as well as political campaigns, regulatory processes and agricultural systems around the world<sup>5</sup>"

Over the next two to four months, the acute effects of the atomic bombings killed 90,000–146,000 people in Hiroshima and 39,000–80,000 people in Nagasaki; roughly half of the deaths in each city occurred on the first day. Large numbers of people continued to die from the effects of burns, radiation sickness, and other injuries, compounded by illness and malnutrition, for many months afterward. In both cities, most of the dead were civilians...’ (source: Wikipedia) “The exact number of victims is still unknown.”
