March	all month	Women's History Month - "Theme for 2019: Visionary Women: Champions of Peace & Nonviolence. This year we honor women who have led efforts to end war, violence, and injustice and pioneered the use of nonviolence to change society. These Honorees embraced the fact that the means determine the ends and so developed nonviolent methods to ensure just and peaceful results. For generations, women have resolved conflicts in their homes, schools, and communities. They have rejected violence as counterproductive and stressed the need to restore respect, establish justice, and reduce the causes of conflict as the surest way to peace. From legal defense and public education to direct action and civil disobedience, women have expanded the American tradition of using inclusive, democratic and active means to reduce violence, achieve peace, and promote the common good. From women's rights and racial justice to disarmament and gun control, the drive for nonviolent change has been championed by visionary women. These women consciously built supportive, nonviolent alternatives and loving communities as well as advocating change. They have given voice to the unrepresented and hope to victims of violence and those who dream of a peaceful world. To help facilitate your research on Women's History, we are including a link to Click! The Ongoing Feminist Revolution.... https://www.cliohistory.org/click/ 2019 National Women's History Alliance Honorees Visionary Women: Champions of Peace & Nonviolence".... includes Kathy Kelly, who came to Fairbanks and spoke at schools and other venues in 2006, sponsored by Alaska Peace Center. She continues her selfless work... Sobriety Awareness Month is an effort to celebrate those who choose to be drug-free, and those who conquer their addictions to do so. It encourages others to sobriety by modeling success, by demonstrating that treatment works, and by the example of a life in which sobriety is valued and cherished... I believe the idea of celebrating sobriety originated within the Alaska Federation of Natives who started the AFN Sobriety Movement with AFN resolutions in 1989 and again in 1996. Sobriety Awareness Month is one step on the way to sending the message that drugs and alcohol are in no way essential to a productive, interesting, and joyful life. from state Sen Berta Gardner (ret.)

Friday March 1st	3-4:30pm	Narrative Sovereignty and Native Representation in Film and TV by Princess Daazhraii Johnson. FREE and open to the public - After the lecture, go on to Fairbanks First Friday events! Throughout the history of film and television many harmful stereotypes have been created that effect how the general public view Alaska Native Peoples. This presentation explores some of that history and how media, when put in the hands of Alaska Native people, can also be the cure for some of the wrongs it has created. Princess Daazhraii Johnson is Neets'aai Gwich'in and her family is from Arctic Village, Alaska. Mrs. Johnson is a Sundance Fellow for the Filmmakers, Producers and Screenwriters Lab, and an Emerging Voices Rosenthal Fellow with the PEN Center. She has been a member of the SAG-AFTRA Native American Committee since 2007 and also serves on the Board of Dancing with the Spirit, a program that promotes spiritual wellness through music. Her screen acting credits include Jericho (CBS), Big Miracle, and Uncross the Stars. Mrs. Johnson received a B.A. in International Relations from The George Washington University and a Masters in Education at the University of Alaska Anchorage with a focus on Environmental and Science Education. In 2015 she was appointed by President Obama to serve on the Board of Trustees for the Institute of American Indian Arts. She is currently the creative producer of a new PBS Kids series called "Molly of Denali" set to premiere in 2019 and lives in Fairbanks with her husband James and her three boys.	from OLLI Morris Thompson Cultural and Visitors Center Theatre

Wednesday March 6	7 pm	Social Justice Book Club will discuss White Fragility by Robin DiAngelo. DiAngelo, a sociologist trained in understanding group patterns, examines how white fragility develops, how it protects racial inequality, and what we can do to engage more constructively. DiAngelo coined the term “white fragility” to describe the disbelieving defensiveness that white people exhibit when their ideas about race and racism are challenged. If you’ve ever said, “I’ve been taught to treat everyone the same” or “I’m color-blind”, then this book may challenge your thinking about individual, cultural and institutionalized racism. Thursday March 7	5-8 pm	March 7: 2019 Art in the Arctic Art Show. 5-8 pm, Venue, 514 2nd Avenue. The Art in the Arctic Art Show celebrates wildlife and their habitats as a legacy of environmental conservation and National Wildlife Refuge management in Alaska. Website: https://www.facebook.com/events/1933441440295392/ Held annually in Fairbanks, this Art Show celebrates Alaska’s northern National Wildlife Refuges. The scale, expanse, and wildness of Alaska’s Refuges distinguish them from most other Refuges in the National Wildlife Refuge System. This year’s show celebrates how these vast tracts of public lands are open to all Americans to use and enjoy. Hunting, fishing, hiking, wildlife viewing, river-floating, photography – these are just a few examples of activities we can all pursue on Alaska’s National Wildlife Refuges. Through art, we will showcase the myriad recreational opportunities supported by these iconic public lands. This event is co-hosted by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Svc, WildLandscapes International, the National Wildlife Refuge Association, and the Friends of Alaska National Wildlife Refuges. Exhibition: Artwork will remain on exhibit at Venue for about one month.	Venue, 514 2nd Avenue from sen.elvi.gray-jackson@akleg.gov: “Governor's Budget cutting $1.6 billion from vital services that Alaskans need and deserve.

FNSB Notices of Ordinances Adopted 2-14-19 included...appropriating $39,055 in federal $ to offset the cost of the first 3 years of operating & maintaining Motor Vehicle Plug-Ins at Noel Wien & North Pole Branch Libraries.

- Federal matching grants reduced by $480 million
 - $332.4 Million cut to Education
 - $155 Million cut to the University of Alaska
 - Nearly $800 Million cut from Health and Social Services

-- Elimination of the Senior Benefits Program

-- Funding to Pioneer Homes reduced by 50%; rates for residents will increase

... Our schools and educators already have a tremendous workload with classroom sizes surpassing well over 30 students per teacher in some cases. The University of Alaska, which serves nearly 31,000 students, under the Governor's budget will be cut by nearly 44%."

from Unitarian Universalist Fellowship of Fbks.: "The Social Justice Committee is collecting bedding, towels, and basic kitchen necessities to support the successful transition of previously incarcerated community members with assistance from the Fairbanks Reentry Coalition. The collection box is in the foyer. Contact Alison Carter at alisoncarter2@yahoo.com for more information."

Regarding the Fbks City Council's rights-protection proposed ordinance on the agenda for its Monday, Feb. 25th mtg: "From:

<https://www.facebook.com/Generation-Action-at-UAF-302067735017/> Our statement strongly supporting Fairbanks City Council Ordinance 6093. This ordinance makes race, ethnicity, gender, sex, and ability protected classes, meaning Fairbanksans are not allowed to be discriminated against in housing, employment, or services because of one of these parts of their identity. If they are, they will be able to pursue legal action right here at home, rather than traveling to Juneau! Friendly reminder that Alaska does NOT protect LGBTQ+ people at all right now! We can be fired, kicked out of our homes, denied services, etc. Anchorage, Sitka, and Juneau have passed local protections but Fairbanksans remain vulnerable. This ordinance is one step closer to a community free from fear and violence. Do you want to get involved? Testify ... at 6:15 at the Fairbanks City Council Chambers (800 Cushman St, Fairbanks, AK) ... Testimony must be under 3 minutes, and you should stay positive. THIS IS A GREAT TIME TO BE A GREAT ALLY!!! Don't think this will affect your life directly? Great! Talk about why it still matters to our community <3 OR email our City Council people (keep it polite, positive, and honest, and remember that any information you share about your identity and story is public record). cityclerk@fairbanks.us ... OR! leave a comment here: <https://www.fairbanksalaska.us/citycouncil/webform/contact-council>

"The Pebble Mine Draft Environmental Impact Statement is out and that means it is time to act. This is a huge step in the Pebble permitting process. The DEIS is supposed to focus on the reasonably-foreseeable impacts of a potential project. Unfortunately this document reads like a rough draft of a permit for foreign mining companies to start digging up the headwaters of Bristol Bay. We need you to demand responsible leaders speak up and bring some sense to this process.

There are a lot of flaws in this 3,000+ page document, but some really big ones immediately stand out. The Army Corps decided to ignore the downstream effects of this mine... Pebble is an extraordinarily large and dangerous mine. It would require 6.8 billion gallons of treated wastewater discharge every year. That's four times as much wastewater discharge as any other hardrock mine in the United States, and it all goes straight into the biggest wild salmon fishery in the world...

The Army Corps is currently allowing only 90 days for public comment on 3,000+ page ream of technical documents. This is way too fast, and unprecedented when compared to similarly large projects. Even Sen. Dan Sullivan, a reliable friend of the mining industry, agrees this is insufficient. We need a real review of environmental impacts, not a rubber stamp for a dangerous mine... Tell Senator Murkowski we need her to be a strong voice for Alaskans and stand with us against the Pebble Mine.

Sincerely, The Stand for Salmon Team" from Alaska Center: Take Action Now
