	5:30	“This year, The Alaska Center Auction is titled “ A Future Worth Fighting For ” because we are investing in Alaska’s future- from outdoor education to affecting policy change - we are working at a state and local level to ensure that Alaskans have the tools, the platform, and the seat at the decision-making table. For the last 20 years Alaska Youth for Environmental Action (AYEA) has been a vital part of this ambitious vision and over the past few months we have seen youth leaders come together to stand up for our future in the face of budget cuts, the demise of a Climate Action Plan, and seemingly endless attack on our clean water under this new Administration. These teens have been standing up, showing up, and speaking out for their futures and it’s time to show our support. Join us at The Alaska Center Annual Auction: A Future Worth Fighting For to show your support for the incredible work AYEAs teens have done and continue to do &gt;&gt;	Anchorage Down- town Marriott For more information visit akcenter.org, email michael@akcenter .org or call (907) 274-3647.

May 30	Deadline	::: to comment on the Army Corps of Engineers' Draft Environmental Impact Statement for the proposed Pebble Mine. In a press release, Alannah Hurley of United Tribes of Bristol Bay said "It completely omits local concerns and doesn't take seriously many of the impacts that our people would feel from this project. It completely ignores collective impacts of any potential spills, or tailings failure. The fact that the Army Corps would even put this out, and call it a draft EIS at this point is so astounding, and insulting to the people of Bristol Bay." June 13	Deadline	:::to comment on Bering Sea-Western Interior Regional Management Plan and EIS. The Bureau of Land Management's Anchorage Field Office is seeking public comments on a draft plan for future public land management actions in the Bering Sea-Western Interior region of Alaska... We will share more information about this extensive plan in the coming weeks, but as you look into it, note that the "preferred alternative" opens all but 1% of the Kuskokwim region to potential mining activity, and would have major implications for the region. We (NAEC) will be advocating for Alternative B in our comments.

Good News category:

*“Greetings Friends,
We gratefully bring forward the good news that on April 4, 2019, Alaska Representative Don Young voted to re-authorize the Violence Against Women Act.
His vote was atypically against the recommendations of the Republican Party and the NRA.
See information about the vote: <https://www.govtrack.us/congress/votes/116-2019/h156>
For some of us, this is a rare chance to thank him for his action. Please consider doing so, at: <https://donyoung.house.gov/contact/>

Peace Justice Sustainability

from ‘The Alaska Center’: “While some cities in Alaska have ordinances protecting all residents, many cities and communities -- including those in the Interior, Mat-Su, Kenai, and most of rural Alaska -- are left vulnerable to legal discrimination. Did you know: no state law guarantees protections for all Alaskans regardless of gender identity, gender expression, or sexual orientation? Without protections in place, legal discrimination occurs daily: food services, public accommodations, emergency services, housing, loans and renting, employment services, education, voting access can be in question for marginalized communities. Our safety and access should not be contingent on our zip code. We need clear, explicit protections for sexual orientation, gender expression, and gender identity to ensure Alaskans’ rights. Add your name: Tell your representatives to support freedoms for all Alaskans -- Pass HB 82>>” from Fairbanks Housing and Homeless Coalition: “We have been approved for 12 Americorps VISTA year-long positions and 18 Summer Associate positions... The Summer Associate positions earn a living allowance and the choice of an education award or cash stipend. The summer positions are great for students, teachers, and/or anybody that is looking to serve the community over the summer. Fbks Soil Water Conservation District (FSWCD): The FSWCD in partnership with several local organizations including the Fairbanks Youth Advocates, Fairbanks Community Food Bank, and a NASA funded hydroponics project are working to create a vertical urban farm in Fairbanks that is modeled after the Alaska Seeds of Change in Anchorage. The project is designed to provide locally grown produce while simultaneously offering job training services, a plant café, and plant therapy to underserved community members. Currently the group is considering the old Gottschalks building (1255 Airport Rd) as a possible location for the farm. The FSWCD will be recruiting for a VISTA position to assist with project development for the farm. Mel Sikes and Marylee Bates strongly encourage everybody to learn more about this type of urban farm project by visiting the Alaska Seeds of Change program. For more information on the Alaska Seeds of Change <http://akseedsofchange.com/>. The FSWCD and partners would like to make this a community driven project and would welcome discussions with other organizations and community members. For more information on the local project please contact Mel Sikes at mel.fswcd@gmail.com or (907) 479-1213 x 105.”

from End Slavery Now: “Actions you can take to help end slavery

- Interested in learning to shop ethically? Download the most recent version of our Slave Free Shopping Guide for ideas on where to start! ... We ranked companies and brands based on their antislavery policies; supply chain transparency; third-party certifications; and engagement around slavery, forced labor and human trafficking. [For example:] Cocoa is the main ingredient found in chocolate. A large percentage of the world’s cocoa comes from the Ivory Coast in west Africa. Many times, forced labor and child labor are used to harvest cocoa beans... Theo® Chocolate was the first organic and Fair for Life SM certified chocolate factory in the United States; [Several candybars have] the FAIRTRADE® Certification Mark, meaning the main ingredients in that product are free from slave labor.”

from Veterans For Peace: “We in Veterans For Peace are declaring 2019 as the year we will acknowledge and honor the courage, the sacrifice, and the moral strength of those GIs who resisted their government’s call to go to war. We want to tell their stories, to give them a forum to share their lives with us. Not just as a history lesson, but as a primer for young women and men in uniform today who are listening to their own moral consciences and are looking for guidance. We are gathering personal narratives of resisters, documentaries of resisters, their poetry, their novels — you name it — describing their experiences. And since GI resistance did not begin or end with the American war in Viet Nam, we are also collecting stories of GIs who have stood up during the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq to carry on Thoreau’s admonition to put our bodies on the line, to stop the war machine. Their stories of courage and sacrifice will be included as well. Will you join us? Will you share your own story of resistance? Will you host these narratives in your communities? Together we can make a difference. Read the Call to Action from VFP’s Vietnam Full Disclosure Campaign”

Audio & Songs broadcast with this week's Community News:

-- Asymmetric Moose Music 04/28/19

This is Rob Mulford. Welcome to the Asymmetric Moose's Music Picks for the week of the April 28, 2019... No! The week may start on the 28th of April but it must be recognized as the week of the worlds first and truest working peoples holiday, May Day. Don't mourn... organize!

While I'm on the subject of human rights... Ella Baker's grandmother was once whipped for refusing to marry a man chosen for her by the slave owner. Ella carried her grandmother's self respect, strength, courage, and resilience in the face of racism and injustice, with her throughout her life. This led her to take a prominent role in struggle for civil rights. Standing alongside other heroes like of Dr. Martin Luther King, she took leadership rolls in the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the N.A.A.C.P., and SNCC the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. Her work earned her the Swahili nickname Fundi - meaning a person who teaches a craft to the next generation. In the first tune the Peace Choir does her justice singing, Ella's Song.... “We who believe in freedom cannot rest.”

In the next tune the Fairbanks Rainbow Choir say “All we need is hope, and for that we have each other. We'll take the world to its feet... and move mountains”, singing Rise Up!

Next the Rainbow Choir sings a tune written by Benj Pasek and Justin Paul, from the Motion Picture “The Greatest Showman” – When the sharpest words wanna cut me down, I'm gonna send a flood, gonna drown them out. I am brave... I am bruised..... I am who I'm meant to be, this is me. Look out 'cause here I come, And I'm marching on to the beat I drum. I'm not scared to be seen. I make no apologies.” The tune is, “This Is Me”.

Flyn Ludington did a such a fine job introducing the next tune at the concert, I'll let her do it here again. I'll just add, “Yea!” Who doesn't love Cyndi Lauper? You know, although, “Hey, they say that a stitch in time saves nine. They say I better stop or I'll go blind... Ooh she bop, she bop”, still can put a grin on my face, I like the next tune much better. (True Colors)
