audio & music played with this week's broadcast:

-- "Hello this is The Asymmetric Moose, Rob Mulford with picks of the week of May 17, 2020.

Were they acts devised to shield the commander in-chief, the Congress, the so-called two party system, a bloated military industrial complex, and / or a disproportionately wealthy economic system from widespread public realization that every one of the those mentioned institutions, their priorities, policies, and tools of the trade are wholly ill equipped to deal effectively with any real threats to humanity? Maybe, to some degree, they were genuine, if but a bit obtuse; gestures, offering to share a little of their super-hero creature status, to bolster the esprit de corps, of a large section of our society that has long faced hazards without so much as a modicum of recognition, let alone appreciation days. I'm speaking of the U.S. Air and Space Force's blatant use of implements of mass murder and wanton destruction to convey a sense of appreciation for those on the front lines of the COVID-19 pandemic; the Air Forces flyover of F-35s and F-16s and the Space Force's launching of the obscenely expensive secret mission X-37B space plane. Fly me to

According to an article in the October 30 issue of Popular Mechanics, it costs $44,000 to fly one F-35 for one hour. That's equal to the price of one high-end ventilator. Looking at the operating cost of one F-35 fighter jet through its expected life span, can we visualize 8,000 ventilators instead?

I can't say what the operating cost of the X-37B amounts to. Seeing that its mission is mostly secret, the costs are only available on a need to know basis; and those with a need to know are likely to be only the U.S. Air Force, the U.S. Space Force, Boeing and their ilk, as well as those Congress People who have shed any aversion – if they indeed ever held any – to the keeping of crucial secrets from their constituents.

They tell us, as the most powerful nation on earth, we have no choice. We need to be wary of our enemies. If we, as a nation, do not pursue these weapon systems, maintain our bloated arsenal, while stationing forces around the globe, our enemies will; and who then will look after all those people around the world who are counting on us to protect them.

One of those enemies, we are told is the evil communist Cuba. The U.S. State Dept. has recently told the world that Cuba's program of deploying medical missions to the earth's poorer countries is an act of human trafficking in doctors. Secretary of State Pompeo says that Cuba is enslaving doctors in a worldwide effort to propagandize those poor unsuspecting countries, into accepting communist dictatorship. The doctors, they say, are sent on missions that they cannot leave.

After a long hard forced march up Fort Jackson's Drag Ass Hill in 1971, my company stopped for platoon photos at the fort's parade grounds. While we were waiting our turn to be memorialized as the 4th Platoon, B Company, 6th Battalion, 12th Combat Training Brigade, drill sergeant Potts informed us that it had come to the commander's attention that a troop had taken it upon himself to shave his head. This, they considered, was an unapproved destruction of government property. Sergeant Potts informed us at the time that we were GI's, government issue, property.

The first tune is about a conscientious objector, who left the United States Army during the Iraq War, was convicted of desertion, and sent to prison. State Radio sings. Camilo* [ISRC # CAN110501067]

Next David Rovics sings about another human catastrophe that F-35, X-37Bs, and U.S. troops stationed in over 800 locations around the Earth cannot save us from. Couch By the Street.

I spent some time in Cuba back in 2015. While there, I had the good fortune of spending an evening with Alexey Rodríguez Mola and Magia Lopez a couple of hip hop artists, known as Obsession, living in Regla, a Afro-Cuban cultural, and industrial suburb east of Havana. They said that Cuba had its problems with racism too, and that the Cuban revolution was an ongoing process. Alexey explained that they loved Americans and American music and that they were excited at the prospects of collaborating musically with Americans, but they did not want to have a McDonalds down the street. Next Obsession sings Victimas [ISRC # USHM91139214]

While in Cuba I also had the great pleasure of visiting Havana's Latin American School of Medicine. There I got to meet students studying medicine for free. Their only tuition was spending a couple years in public service, serving poor communities in Cuba and back home in their own countries. I met student doctors from Mali, Cameroon, Nigeria etc., even Wisconsin. Next a group of artists in Las Tunas, Cuba sing a salute to those doctors and other medical service providers on the front lines of the Corona Virus Pandemic, some of them in worlds most impoverished area. Cancion Ejercito de batas blancas Song Army in white robes."
